01 Testimonials

Catherine

"Being a member in The Burman is like being part of a truly supportive community. The kindness and openness of everyone make collaboration easy and ideas flow naturally. The encouraging atmosphere makes it clear that we're all working towards something meaningful together. It's a place where you can grow, learn, and contribute, knowing that your thoughts are genuinely valued."

Brooklyn

"I am a writer and graphic designer for The Burman who is looking forward to working together with the amazing Burman team! I am honored to be a part of the journey together with like-minded peers."

Patricia

"I really love being a member here. I love that I could have fun and make new friends while also making a positive impact."

Cherry Oo - YEC orphanage manager

"It's heartwarming to see The Burman engaging so well with all the ophans. We hope the organization can return to YEC and continue volunteering with us."

Fatima Khan

"Joining the Burman has been a wonderful experience for me. Right from the start, I felt welcomed. Everyone here is so motivated, helpful, and cares about each other. I love that the organisation is inclusive, and it truly feels like everyone has a place here. Working with the research team has been exciting because we all share the same values—especially being a voice for marginalised communities. It feels good to be part of a group that's focused on making a difference for those who are often unheard."

01 Testimonials

Phaung Daw Oo - Head of Educational Department

"The Burman workshop was an unexpectedly valuable experience. The young presenters provided us with a wealth of information that was beneficial not only for the 900 students in our school but also for us teachers. I was particularly glad to learn about new websites and resources, and I hope we can have more workshops like this in the future."

Eldar:

"I first joined The Burman after reading the organization's vision and mission. They aligned with my values and I soon found joy in volunteering and contributing to The Burman! In my new role as projects team lead, I am able to hone my leadership and management skills. The Burman has been valuable in providing skills for the future."

Anika

"I'm a former ISM student and now attending SIS. It has been great being in Burman and working with other students in bringing a better tomorrow for the unprivileged; I am surely looking forward to future plans!"

Christine

"Being a member of The Burman and writing articles about charity visits and the positive impacts they make is incredibly fulfilling. It allows me to highlight the good deeds and compassionate efforts within communities, showcasing the profound difference these acts of kindness make in people's lives."

Peggy

"Being a Burman member is inspiring and collaborative. Making a real difference with passionate peers inspires creativity and resilience, which is rewarding. Each day offers opportunities to support meaningful causes, making the effort truly fulfilling."

01 Testimonials

Francesca

"It is heartbreaking to witness children leaving school because of financial distress. Joining Burman has opened a door to my passion. It allows me to help those children by sharing and discussing educational topics, providing them with funds to relieve the financial burden on their families, and opening a window of opportunity for education. By engaging in actions gives me a sense of contentment, acknowledges my ability to add value to my community, and helps me redefine my potential."

Scarlet

"I've been apart of Burman since mid-June. In the club, I've had the opportunity to become the graphic team's leader, and through this role, I've been able to refine my design skills, contribute to projects that align with the Burman's mission, and guide others in their creative process. I'm looking forward to continue pushing our creative boundaries even further."

Zoe:

"As a member of the Burman, I have been able to enhance my communication skills and have a positive impact on the lives of children. In my capacity as the research team's leader, I am delighted of having the opportunity to interact with team members while acquiring valuable information from publications."

Steve

"I joined the Burman because I was eager to join the team when I first read about it. When I started helping out the team it was very enjoyable and I was happy to always help out with the team. I was also thrilled and happy to go to the orphanage and help the kids."

Hazel

"I joined the organization to make a positive impact in our community by helping others. I believe that it would allow me to meet like-minded individuals who are committed to making a difference. I'm thrilled to be part of an organization driven by our shared objectives and passions. It's very fulfilling to be involved in an organization like this, which has always been a personal dream of mine."
